TONG WAR SETTLED; WILL PAY FAMILIES

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 12.—Threatened strife among San Francisco thugs over the killing of two tong men in Los Angeles three weeks ago was averted tonight at a conference of leaders of the Bing Kong, Hop Sing and Four Families societies with police officials and Chao Hsin Chu, Chinese Consul-General.

No indemnities will be paid, Chao Hsin Chu announced, but the families of the slain Chinese will be aided in this case, and in any like case which may arise, by general subscriptions from the Chinese.

ARMIES MAY MARCH AGAIN IN EUROPE; FRANCE NOW STANDS AT "PARTING OF THE WAYS"

[BY WILLIAM COURTNEY. (BY CABLE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)]

PARIS, Jan. 12.—Armies may again march in Europe if, as seems probable tonight, Raymond Poincaré will be asked to form a new national cabinet to replace the ministry of Georges Leygues, which was overthrown this afternoon by a vote of 463 to 125. This was the largest vote ever cast against a French ministry.

President Millerand, it is reported tonight, will do everything possible to avoid summoning Poincaré to the Premiership in view of the critical situation and the former President's strong stand on the problems confronting France. There is a strong sentiment, however, in favor of Poincaré instead of what he considers wasting time with arrangements intended to conciliate the Germans, but which the Germans resist.

IRON-HAND CONTROL OF COAL INDUSTRY PLANNED.

Calder Committee Recommends Federal Regulation to Prevent Repetition of Orgy of Profiteering.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Severe and far-reaching legislation to bring the coal industry under Federal regulation was recommended to the Senate today by the Calder committee as a result of its inquiry into the coal situation.

The measure designed to prevent a repetition of the orgy of profiteering which sent prices to unprecedented heights in 1920 is one of the most radical steps ever undertaken by Congress for the control of a private industry in times of peace.

BOLSHEVIK TRANSPORT SENT DOWN.

Red Ship Attacks French Boat, Which Opens Fire With Real Effect.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

PARIS, Jan. 12.—France today received confirmation of the sinking of an armed Bolshevik transport in the Black Sea by the French destroyer Sakalev. The destroyer was engaged in police duty when attacked by the Bolshevik ship, the advice says, and the French warship opened fire. In a few minutes the Bolshevik transport abandoned the transport, which sank. Another Bolshevik ship was sighted. There were no French casualties.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Intention of the American government to carefully investigate the fatal shooting by a Japanese sentry yesterday at Vladivostok of Lieut. W. H. Langdon, chief engineer of the American cruiser Albany, was evidenced in action taken tonight by two government departments. The State Department, upon being informed of the bare details in a report from Consul MacGowan at Vladivostok, directed the Consul to report a more complete report.

SETTLE INAUGURAL PLANS.

Ceremony Will be on East Portico of the Capitol, Weather Permitting.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

MARION (O.), Jan. 12.—Upsetting for the second time plans for his inauguration, President-elect Harding suggested to officials at Washington today that they had gone far enough toward simplicity by deciding to hold the ceremony in the Senate.

Observance of the usual custom of taking the oath on the east portico of the Capitol, Harding telegraphed, would be quite agreeable to him and would permit a much greater number of spectators. If no money were spent in the erection of special stands, he said, there could be no objection from the viewpoint of economy.

FRUIT CROP SUFFERS NO FROST HERE.

Slight Nipping, No Damage, Reports Say; Temperatures Higher Last Night.

Oranges and lemons in particularly cold spots scattered through the great citrus fruit districts of Southern California were slightly nipped by frost early yesterday morning, according to statements of California Fruit Growers' Exchange officials last night.

E. G. Desell, assistant general manager of the exchange, said that beyond a doubt an insignificant amount of fruit in isolated low spots here and there felt the frost, but that no fruit was frozen and that the marketability of the crop had not been injured in the least.

"Every winter the fruit gets nipped a little in areas where low temperatures are the most frequent," said an exchange official, "but it takes a genuine freeze to injure the fruit for market purposes."

Riverside and Pomona experienced 35 deg. temperatures for a short time yesterday morning, while Santa Barbara dropped a point lower. Redlands stood at 27 points for a time, and Fresno reached as low as 24 deg.

The forecast for this morning was for light to heavy frosts generally over Southern California instead of the killing frosts warned for the past two days. The worst of the cold is believed past.

WARMER LAST NIGHT.

While the early part of last night was cool and sharp, citrus growers in the inland districts did not anticipate heavy frost. At 11 p.m., it was quite a bit warmer at Pomona than at the same hour Tuesday night. The frost protective system was not in use at all there. At Redlands the temperature at the same hour was 33 deg. At Whittier the temperature was 37 and a little orchard heating was being done, but ranchers doubted that it was necessary to fire up.

At Riverside last night at 10 o'clock the thermometers showed 40 deg., which is three degrees higher than Tuesday night at the same hour. Careful examination in Riverside orchards yesterday by experts showed no evidence of ice in any of the fruit.

In the San Joaquin Valley official reports said that the cold snap instead of having done any damage had really benefited the citrus orchards by holding the buds back for a while, and that by checking the grain growth it assured more sturdy roots and stocks. In the Sacramento Valley the cold spell had been broken by rain and a rise in temperature, and no crop damage reports had been received. San Francisco weather forecasters yesterday were for higher temperatures generally over the State, and light rains in the northern and central portions.

LIGHT RAINS IN NORTH.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 12.—Light rains occurred over Northern California today, accompanied by snow in the mountain districts. The figures follow:

	Last 24 hours	Seasonal Normal	Seasonal Actual
San Francisco	12.15	11.45	4.39
San Jose	12.15	11.45	4.39
Stockton	12.15	11.45	4.39
Modesto	12.15	11.45	4.39
Yuba City	12.15	11.45	4.39
Fresno	12.15	11.45	4.39

GERMAN-MADE WARE FLOODING COUNTRY.

RUSSIAN AMOUNTS ARE REACHING AMERICA HOUSE COMMITTEE IS TOLD.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Professing to foresee danger in the rapid growth of German manufacturing since the war, American business men are urging Congress to lay a barrier against what they describe as the destructive effects of fierce competition.

Information as to aggressive activities of the former enemy country's industries was given the House Ways and Means Committee by half a dozen witnesses, who were pleading for protection for metal manufacturers. The witnesses declared that German exports in quantity already had begun and that no small part of them was coming to American ports.

A. C. Carlson of San Francisco said skilled technical workers were being paid less in Germany now than they were in 1914, with the result that the industries were able to produce at much less expense than competitive American plants.

"The Germans," he added, "are taking advantage of every opportunity. They are permeating the ranks of English brokers and scores of American firms are thus buying goods made in Germany to the detriment of American manufacturers. English know the effect the trade will have on the general exchange situation and they are presiding the sale of German manufactures as hard as they can."

COUNT AND COUNTESS MAY BE SENT ABROAD.

ENTERED COUNTRY AFTER REFUSED ADMISSION; HELD BY OFFICIALS.

SPOKANE (Wash.) Jan. 12.—Count and Countess Vigor Holstein Rathlou of Denmark, the latter formerly the wife of Dr. Roy A. Miles Collins, killed in Portland in 1919, were arrested here today by United States immigration authorities and are being held for possible deportation.

According to B. E. Gowen, immigration commissioner here, the pair entered the United States presumably through Canada, last September, after they had been refused admission in 1919. According to Mr. Gowen, the Count and Countess left in 1915 and upon their return were refused admission on the ground of moral turpitude. He said they had been involved in alleged fraudulent schemes.

PORTLAND (Or.) Jan. 12.—Mrs. Kate Collins, the second wife of Dr. Roy A. Miles Collins, shot and killed her husband in Portland in 1919. She made a defense of insanity and at her trial brought out that her husband, a Portland physician, had neglected her and been attentive to other women. She was convicted of murder and was sentenced to serve a life term in Oregon penitentiary.

PORTLAND MEN GET THREATENING NOTES.

LETTERS SIGNED "SHADOW" DEMANDING LARGE SUMS RECEIVED BY FIVE.

PORTLAND (Or.) Jan. 12.—Letters signed "Shadow" and demanding amounts varying from $25,000 to $10,000 on pain of death and other damage, have been received by five prominent men of Portland, the police announced today.

J. Wesley Ladd, banker, received a letter demanding $25,000; from Ben Selling, clothier, $15,000; Charles Jennings and Henry Jennings, Jr., and I. Gevertz, furniture men, $10,000.

The police arranged with Ladd to place a dummy package in a designated spot last night, and after the package had been put there it disappeared. The police were unable to account for the escape of the person who had taken the package.

WANTS PRESIDENT TO ISSUE RELIEF APPEAL.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—President Wilson would be asked to issue a public appeal for American contributions in behalf of the starving people of Europe by a resolution approved today by the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

The resolution is a substitute for one by Representative French, Republican, Idaho, proposing that the government officially endorse the work of the European Relief Council.

FINANCIAL PRESENTS FEDERAL TAX BUDGET.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—Business interests should guard against advocating schemes for tax revision unless they are in accord with modern conceptions of social decency and fairness, Otto H. Kahn, financier, declared in an address today.

Mr. Kahn presented a tentative tax budget for the national government which would yield $4,350,000,000 annually, to be divided as follows:

Individual income from surtaxes, $1,000,000,000; corporate income tax, $850,000,000; estate duties, $100,000,000; turnover tax, $550,000,000; customs, $350,000,000, and internal revenue, $1,300,000,000.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
LAFAYETTE (Ind.) Jan. 12.—The International meeting of the Indiana Draft Horse Breeders' Association will be held at Indianapolis January 20 and 21.

"The horse business is far from dead, and just now the farmers are beginning to realize there is a real shortage of good horses," said Prof. R. B. Cooley of Purdue University, in speaking of the meeting. "Horses are 'coming back,' as is being shown by the way they are being put back on delivery trucks in the cities and just as many as ever will be used for farms this year."

DORIS OF DEATH CASE IDENTIFIED

Mysterious Figure in Denton Puzzle is Third Wife.

Marriage and Divorce Court Documents Prove Point.

Mrs. Peete Tells Reporters that She's Innocent.

The mysterious "Doris" who figured in the early investigations into the slaying of Jacob C. Denton was definitely identified and eliminated from the murder case yesterday when photographic copies obtained for the Times of documents on file at Denver and Redding, Cal., established that "Doris" is in reality Etta Cole, the Pittsburgh woman who assisted in the murder of her husband.

The documents through which the positive identification was made are the affidavit for marriage license filed out by Denton and Etta Cole at Redding, Aug. 15, 1918, and the "Doris letter" introduced by Mrs. Sarah Denton, then the mining man's wife, as an exhibit in her suit for divorce in the Denver courts in April of the same year. The signature on the Doris letter and the handwriting in general are undoubtedly the chirography of the person who signed the name "Etta Cole" to the Redding affidavit, according to Rush M. Blodgett, attorney for Judge Avery, administrator of the Denton estate. There is, moreover, no doubt, according to Mr. Blodgett, that Denton's signature on the affidavit is genuine.

DEFENSE INTERESTED.

Although a representative of the District Attorney's office has stated that the third marriage of Denton will play no part in the murder trial, Acting Public Defender Aggeler and his assistants made it known yesterday that they are very much interested in this phase of the case. They checked up the Redding marriage some time ago and have in their possession copies of all the documents. Mr. Aggeler is now particularly anxious to learn if Denton visited Etta Cole Denton during the spring of 1919. He would not state whether he intends to induce any of this information at the trial.

Mrs. Lone Louise Peete, held in the County Jail and charged with the murder of Denton, also is considerably interested in the Etta Cole marriage, according to her friends. Just how much she knew of Denton's private affairs is problematic at this time, although it is considered not unlikely that she will open this subject when she takes the stand in her own defense.

For the first time since her arrest on the murder charge, Mrs. Peete talked about the case with newspaper men yesterday. She did not touch on any important point, but in general terms again related that she is innocent, promised that there will be no heroics or hysterics in the courtroom, and told of having no terror-visions of the crime, such, she said, as a guilty person would have. In making this point, Mrs. Peete referred to her fellow-prisoners in the jail, some of whom are accused of murder, and said that "two of the women cannot sleep at night. This allusion, it was learned later, created high indignation among the women prisoners.

In her interview with the reporters Mrs. Peete also referred to her hopes for her child, little Betty Peete, and spoke highly of her husband, Richard C. Peete.

Between her pleasant interview with the newspaper men and the less pleasant one with the women prisoners, Mrs. Peete crowded a five hour talk with Mr. Aggeler and Deputy Public Defenders Scott and Vercoe.

Attorney Blodgett and Judge Avery yesterday made arrangements to secure the transcript and all other papers of the divorce case in which Denton obtained separation from Etta Cole Denton in Arizona, April 6, 1918.

NEW RECORD FOR USE OF GAS IS SET.

Tuesday Sets High Level; Transmission Pipe Break Lessens Flow for Time.

Using 40 per cent more gas Tuesday than in any day during the winter of 1919-20, this city has probably established a Coast record for the consumption of gas. During the coldest day last winter, according to Harry Massey, gas supervisor for the State Railroad Commission, the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation delivered 37,000,000 cubic feet of gas to its subscribers. Tuesday it served 15,000,000 cubic feet of gas.

Mr. Massey ascribes the tremendous increase to the remarkable growth of the city, coupled with a particularly heavy demand for gas on the coldest day that Southern California has experienced this winter. Mr. Massey, in a statement to the Press last night, declared that

Los Angeles and a few cities within a radius of thirty-five miles, are using more gas than San Francisco and all the other cities in the State.

Following the bursting of a Midland Gas Company transmission pipe line in Cajon Pass, nearly yesterday morning, 23,000,000 cubic feet of natural gas from the Taft field was cut off from this city's supply until repairs could be made later in the day, and this caused Supervisor Massey to issue a warning against extravagant use of gas during the remainder of the winter.

"The Southern California Gas Company and the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Company," says Mr. Massey, "distribute more than 70,000,000 cubic feet of gas per day. This is a very close approach to the gas requirements of New York City and is nearly three times the volume used in San Francisco. The amount of gas consumed in Los Angeles and Orange counties exceeds the combined gas requirements of all the rest of the State."

Mr. Massey insists that the gas companies and the State Railroad Commission are everything possible to make the supply equal to the demand for gas this winter, but he admits that low pressure and poor quality will prevail for some time if consumers insist on using such appliances as ovens and heaters at night. He advises burning the heaters lower and keeping them going for a greater length of time, rather than turning them on full blast at a time when everybody else has the impulse to do the same thing.

of American plan of employment by the maintenance of the open shop.

"We urge upon our members to secure by discussion and education the active support of workers, merchants, bankers and professional men and all other elements of their prospective communities in favor of American ideals and the open shop."

RAILROAD RESOLUTION.

The resolution urging the Railroad Labor Board, which, during the day, continued to take testimony here to cancel the present national wage agreements and open the way for local agreements, was based on this argument:

(1.) Railroad conditions vary widely in different sections of the country and standardization of working conditions on railroads tends toward standardization in all industry which would reduce productive efficiency throughout the country.

(2.) The continued prohibition of piece work in railroad shops will not only increase railroad expenses but will make it more difficult to maintain piece work in other industries and thereby reduce efficiency and increase expense.

(3.) The railroads now are compelled to pay employees for work that is not done and to pay them two or even more days pay for one day or less of work.

(4.) The present agreements prohibit preferential promotion for efficiency and discharge for inefficiency. They prevent the railroads from obtaining sufficient employees for some departments.

PROTEST AT BOARDS.

The resolution protested against creation of national boards of adjustment sought by the railroad unions.

Speakers at the installation of officers in the Chicago Association of Commerce advocate similar measures to prevent the extension of industrial unionism. The labor committee of the association outlines a plan to bring the open shop about.

The open-shop movement is declared by men prominent in manufacturing to be gaining tremendous headway. It is a reaction against the tight control of industry by labor which was begun during the war.

William Butterworth, who presided at the meeting of the Manufacturers' Association, devoted almost all of his address to advocating the closed shop.

Better Values in the Better Sort of Homefurnishings

If you prefer to pay cash and get better value in homefurnishings of the better sort, it will surely pay you to come here and see our choice assortment.

Many people who come here from large cities in the East pronounce our establishment one of the most beautiful and completely stocked they have ever seen.

Just now we'd like to have you investigate some of the opportunities afforded by our Annual Clearance, a few of which are enumerated below.

Living Room Furniture

Three floors are devoted to our comprehensive displays of living room furniture in mahogany, walnut, oak and overstuffed. Many splendid examples of the most artistic Period furniture are to be found in this assortment. Special values in the Clearance provide savings of at least twenty per cent on any article you select, and in the case of some overstuffed pieces, fifty per cent.

Main, Sixth and Seventh Floors.

Bedroom Furniture

Think of choosing just the pieces you like from an assortment of complete matched suites that occupies an entire floor. That is exactly what you will find here at special prices, in addition to many odd pieces and plainer styles carried in our Basement Store.

All bedroom furniture carries a Special Clearance discount of twenty per cent and in some cases even fifty per cent.

Fourth Floor

Dining Furniture

"I find it easy to select, because your store is so well arranged," said a customer recently. This applies with especial emphasis to dining furniture, for we now show an entire floor of complete matched suites in the Renaissance and other Period styles, and all of them priced special in the Clearance at from twenty to fifty per cent under our former cash prices.

Fifth Floor

Rugs and Floor Coverings

No matter what you need in rugs, it will pay you to see our assortment.

Quite often we have colors and designs not found elsewhere and in any case our cash prices enable you to secure utmost value.

The Annual Clearance brings many special values, close-outs of discontinued patterns, etc., that will not again be obtainable. See our displays of these special priced rugs.

Second Floor

One-Third-Off on All Cretonnes

Choose any piece of cretonne in our entire choice assortment, whether it be a pretty domestic fabric at 75c the yard, or an imported creation at $12, and pay one-third less than our regular cash price. There is especially good choosing at one dollar per yard—all pieces that were $1.50 and some hand blocked linen designs are very attractive.

Mezzanine Floor.

Basement Store

Here in this well-lighted, airy store room are carried all the plain styles, odd and ends remaining from high class suites and other lines that for one reason or another find their way down to be closed out quickly at a very low price.

Of especial note just now is the creditable assortment of dining furniture and out-door furniture offered at exactly half our former cash price in the Basement Store.

The People and Their Daily Troubles

Mrs. Solomon Says—

Being the Confessions of the Seven-hundredth Wife, Concerning the Sentimental Youth, and the Wild Damels of Babylon.

BY HELEN ROWLAND.

"Verily, verily," sigheth the sentimental youth, "there be three things which I cannot understand:

"The way of a woman in a telephone booth.

"The way of a damsel with her hair.

"And the way of a maid with her first name.

"For all the ways of woman are funny—but her 'pet' names are beyond my comprehension.

"Alas, alas! Where is there romance, where is there sentiment, where is there feminine mystery in Babylon? Yes, where are the damsels of yesterday?

"Where are the Doras, and Dollys, and Mellys, and Pollys?

"Where are the Pearls, and Rubies, and Pansies, and Violets.

"Where are the Jewels and Flowers and virtues—all the sweet, romantic names, which stirred the heart of man to dreams and visions? For lo, when I call Theodora upon the telephone, she answerseth:

"'Yes, this is Teddy!'

"When I murmur sweet nothings unto Barbara, she saith:

"'Oh, call me Baby!'

"When I say 'Jaqueline at home' her mother replyeth:

"'Yes, Jackie will be down in a moment.'

"When I indite a sonnet to Frances, she inquireth if I know not that those who love her call her 'Frankie,' and sweet Wilhelmina insisteth that she will answer to no name save 'Billie.'

"Lo, of fair 'Buddies,' I know upward of seven times seven, and of fluffy 'Berries,' an hundred and ten.

"The fascinating Georgianna doneth riding coat and breeches and becometh 'Georgie,' while Geraldine sporteth overalls and is 'Jerry.'

"Yet, in my heart, I yearn for one damsel, unto whom, I can murmur 'Gladys!—for one sweet young thing, whom I may call 'Clarice' or 'Aline' or 'Baby doll!'

"Then, turn from your wild ways, oh ye damels of Babylon, and consider the tender susceptibilities of a sweet, old-fashioned young man!

"For what would ye feel, if men called themselves 'Bob-tat' and 'Jim-antha' and 'Sam-samma' and 'Will-etia' for short?

"Would ye find them more fascinating?

"Go to! How can a man sing love songs and dream rosy dreams, of his 'little brother'?

"How can a youth play Prince Charming to a Princess in smocks, and bloomers and short hair, who calleth herself 'Freddie'?

"Verily, verily, I confess that thou art cute and chummy, my beloved, but thou resemblest not my romantic ideal!

"And, much as I admire and adore mine own sex, behold, it taketh two sexes to make a world—interesting!

"Yet, alas! Boys will be boys—and so will girls, if they keep on trying."

BACHELOR GIRL REFLECTIONS.

GIRL.

Good morning! Have you renewed your interstitial gland?" Never mind! Gland or no gland, if you feel bells tinkle in your pulses, stars twinkle in your eyes, and all life blossom into a Christmas tree, full of dreams, illusions, and glittering possibilities, at this magic season, you are still young, with the eternal youth of the gods!

Some husbands are never more than 1/2 of 1 per cent married, and the other 99 1/2 per cent pure flirt.

A sweet home life looks about as enticing to a bachelor as a cage in a wild canary; but, after a year or two of warmth, comfort, regular meals, and having his bath prepared for him, you couldn't tear either of them away from it.

At first, a man's flirtations make a woman weep, then they make her wonder, then they make her weary, but her love is never quite dead, until they make her laugh.

The average man steps blithely over the quicksands of flirtation, under the impression that it is the rock of platonic friendship, and never realizes what has happened to him, until he finds himself up to his neck in a love affair.

The biggest, bravest man that ever lived is built like a barge, and any little woman who puffs up steam enough, can attach him to her and tow him all the way up the stream of life.

If husbands and wives had to die, as well as dine, simultaneously, most of them would never get to heaven for arguing over which road to take, and who should have the first choice of wings.

"Mental cruelty" and "psychological incompatibility" are the newest and smartest names for the same old "grounds"—cold coffee, cold kisses, hot words, luke-warm affections, and the morning battle over the newspaper.

Every scientist and metaphysician seems to be discovering a new way of prolonging life—just as the H.C.L. and the labor situation have caused most of us to doubt that life is worth living, at all!

Every woman envies a man his ability to go into each new flirtation, with all the enthusiasm of "first love," and the undaunted faith that it will be "the last."

"Lunger" Builds Up Breathing Apparatus Until He Is Now Making a Living Through His Shouting Ability.

EVERYONE who has ever visited San Antonio carries away at least one unique memory of the Texas city—that of a white-haired, thick-set man, mounted on a horse and with a megaphone continually to his mouth, bellying the delights of attractions in and around the city. But the remarkable carrying power of his voice is not the only unusual thing about Julius Meyers, or "Megaphone" Meyers as he is generally called. Twenty years ago he came to San Antonio on a stretcher and the doctors agreed that he couldn't live six months. Not only has he proved the error of their prophecy, but he is now making his living through the part of his organism that was supposed to be completely shut to pieces—his lungs.

When Meyers arrived in "San Antonio" one of his lungs was just about gone. There was a little of it left, but not much, and not a medical man in the city believed but the slightest hope of life beyond the end of the year. Meyers, however, didn't give up. He was determined to live and he knew that life in the dry, beautiful air of Texas would help him if anything would. So he set to work at a series of calisthenic exercises, slowly at first and then more vigorously. Little by little his diseased lung mended and now San Antonio doctors declare that "Megaphone" Meyers can outshout any ten men in the United States.

In addition to building up his body, Meyers's outdoor life also built up his income, for he adopted the strange habit of announcing machine. Even his clothes are decorated with signs and placards and there isn't a theatre, moving-picture house, dance-hall or amusement park around San Antonio that doesn't make use of his exceptional lung power for purposes of advertisement.

Q: What was Tesla's Tower and what was it for?

A: Tesla's Tower was built at Shoreham, L. I., about twenty years prior to 1917, in which year it was destroyed by order of the United States government. It was 180 feet high, with a well 100 feet deep. The purpose of the tower was to aid in experimenting with transmission of electric energy for power and lighting purposes, especially for experiments in wireless, which were conducted even before people knew of Marconi. A lattice work of steel was topped by a mushroom-shaped compartment in which there was a laboratory. The dome was covered with copper.

Q: What officer in the Navy wears an anchor and silver leaf on his collar?

A: A commander in the Navy wears this insignia on his collar.

Q: Where does Japan rank as a naval power?

A: Japan ranks third as a naval power, only Great Britain and the United States taking precedence.

Q: What kind of a government has Finland at present?

A: Finland, formerly a part of the Russian empire, is now an independent republic, proclaimed such on Dec. 6, 1917.

Q: During the war, how far below the surface did submarines work?

A: The Navy Department says that while submarines could dive to a depth of 300 feet, their operations were usually conducted at about fifty feet.

LETTERS TO "THE TIMES."

Must Come to It.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 5.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Just after the war started and wages climbed sky high, prices of all kinds of merchandise started to follow suit. A lot of "wise guys" in business saw the handwriting on the wall and begged, borrowed and stole goods at the lowest possible figure. They loaded up their shelves and then smiled as they steadily advanced the costs made possible by their own overbuying and the underproduction due to war conditions. They justified all increased costs because of a rising market regardless of the price they paid for them.

In order that they might make more than was justly theirs these merchants crowded the mills and in many cases made it hard for the government that was trying to win a war as quickly as possible.

Now it's a horse of a different color.

Wages are going down and the buying public is more than tired of being held up. There is a demand that prices must come down coupled with the statement that there will be darn little buying until things are cheaper. Mr. Merchant squeals to beat the band. "It ain't fair," he says, "I gotta make a profit on what I sell." Not on your life Mr. Robber. It's up to you to lose a little of that change.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 6.—[To the Editor of The Times:] It is nothing short of an outrage that the government has taken no steps in an attempt to bring Liberty Bonds back to par value.

I was one of many that entered the bond drives and used as my biggest argument that people should buy even if they could not afford it because as soon as the money was had their wealth relieved from war-time activities they would be glad to take up government securities and the man of small means would get his money back as soon as he had to have it dollar for dollar.

Now, by some manipulation these bonds—the best securities in the world—paying 4 1/2 per cent interest are selling in some instances $15 below par and the small investor, the man who can ill afford it and who was prompted by patriotic motives to aid this country is the loser.

Hundreds of "tight-wads" who could not be forced into buying the bonds when the government needed the money are making a great big profit every day off the red blooded day laborers who answered his country's call in time of need.

It makes me heart sick every time I hear of a man selling his bonds for less than he paid for them because he not only loses his money, but loses his confidence in his government and becomes filled with more of that class hatred that is growing all too fast in this land of ours. Every man who has the least bit of influence should write his Congressman to get busy and devise some plan to make it impossible for Skylocks to make money out of a poor man's patriotism.

W. B. HOBSON.

Why the Commission?

GLENDAL, Jan. 6.—[To the Editor of The Times:] And now amid the dampish mental processes that actuate the world in this, the year of our Lord, nineteen hundred and twenty-one, arises the question, "Why is the Civil Service Commission?"

There is a county position to be filled; that of Public Defender. In conformity with the law, a civil service examination was held for the purpose of securing the best man available for the place, the scope of such examination embracing not only legal ability, but honesty, personality, temperamental fitness and what not. And when the Civil Service Commission places its findings before the Board of Supervisors, those findings are supposed to be the last word on the subject, yet these same Supervisors arbitrarily refuse to respect the authority conferred upon the commission by law, and decline to appoint anybody to the position not in rapport with their own political ideas of "fitness."

Does the Board of Supervisors possess the legal (or moral) right to nullify the decisions of the Civil Service Commission?

Milk For Health

An Every Day Food For Children

For children, no other food can take the place of milk. Physicians and dietitians agree that children who drink plenty of fresh milk, and eat simple dishes made wholly or mainly from milk—such as cottage cheese, junket, custards, etc., together with fruits and green vegetables, will develop sound teeth, firm bones and strong, vigorous bodies.

"A Quart a Day Keeps the Doctor Away"

A quart of milk a day keeps the doctor away" was the catch-line of a prize-winning poster in a Spokane school in a recent educational drive for greater milk consumption.

You know that in a single quart of milk there is more lime—absolutely necessary to make bones and teeth—than there is in all the white bread, all the potatoes and all the meat an average person will eat in a half-month? No wonder the dairymen are busy. Drink More Milk!

THE COST OF MILK

Dairymen nowadays buy pure bred cattle of strains noted for early health and high grade of milk. Such cows cost several times as much as an ordinary cow, but the dairymen of 1921 conform to a far higher standard than did the farmers of the old school. That's one reason why you pay more for milk today.

How THIS LABEL protects YOUR BUSINESS

"Sterling" on silver, "Underwriters' Label" on safes.

Your only reason for buying a safe is to protect yourself against the loss of valuables, whether currency, jewels, business records or documents. Yet a superficial examination of any safe does not tell you how it would stand up in a withering fire, nor what would happen if it were caught under the crashing walls of a burning building.

It is this assurance that you get when you see the Underwriters' Label on an ART METAL LIGHT WEIGHT SAFE. It is the guarantee of structural strength and performance awarded by the Underwriters' Laboratory—an impartial body of engineers supported by the insurance companies.

In awarding the Art Metal Light Weight Safe this guarantee label, the board of engineers subjected it to a more grilling test than would prevail in one out of a thousand fires. They put the safe in a furnace heat of 1700 degrees and kept it there for an hour. Then, red hot, it was dropped 30 feet onto a concrete sidewalk. After going through this test the safe was hardly scratched—and the contents, consisting of loose papers and books, were found in absolutely perfect condition.

"Such a safe," said they, "is worthy of the Underwriters' Label."

In almost every business there are documents of such value and character that no insurance could compensate for their loss. Perhaps there are some papers of such extreme importance being held in your office tonight. Is it good business to compromise your firm on this sort of risk?

Ask the H. S. Crocker Company representative—phone or personal call—how the Underwriters' Label on an Art Metal Light Weight Safe will protect your business.

SOCIETY.

BY VIRGINIA WOODS.

Miss Kays Entertains.
One of the season's most enjoyable affairs for the debutante set was the dancing party given last evening by Miss Florence Kays at the home of her mother, Mrs. James C. Kays at 741 South New Hampshire avenue.

Daisies and bachelors' buttons were used in an unusually attractive arrangement throughout the house. At midnight a buffet supper was served to 100 guests.

Mrs. Bonner is Hostess.
Mrs. Clark J. Bonner, a charming young bride who has been much feted since her recent marriage, was hostess yesterday at a most attractive luncheon at the California Club. A low, blue basket filled with early spring blooms decorated the table, at which there were places for twelve.

In Demand Socially.
Mr. and Mrs. Kias de Jong, distinguished folk from Holland, are domiciled at the Hotel Maryland in Pasadena, where they will remain but a few days longer. They have been much in demand socially.

Mr. and Mrs. Brand to Entertain.
Mr. and Mrs. Leslie C. Brand are among the number who are to entertain with a large dinner party on Tuesday evening at the Ambassador. The opening and ball at the Ambassador.

For Mr. and Mrs. McAdoo.
The Wilshire Country Club was the scene last evening of an interesting little dinner and dancing party at which Mr. and Mrs. William J. Pearson entertained in compliment to Mr. and Mrs. William Gibbs McAdoo. A mound of pink roses centered the table, at which plates were set for Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lee Woolwine, Judge and Mrs. Rufus C. Porter and Mr. and Mrs. Turner Elmer Weatherholt.

Musical and Dance.
Mrs. Erasmus Wilson, whose magnificent home at 7 Chester Place is to be the scene of a musical and dance to be given Friday evening by the Los Angeles Chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy, will have to assist her Misses W. S. Bartlett, William Irving Hollingsworth, Grantland Seaton Long, Samuel Carey Dunlap, C. L. Wallis, Eugene A. Hawkins, William J. Chichester, C. Q. Stanton, W. H. Mills, W. M. Alexander, W. B. Scarborough, George Penhaker, Willard Andrews, Ada B. Stocker, Bayless F. Shepherd, Thayer Roderick, E. P. Mathison, Matthew R. Robertson, and A. B. Cooke.

Dinner Parties.
A large number of dinner parties are to be given on the evening of January 24, preceding the charity ball to be held at the Ambassador. Many of the hostesses will later assemble their guests in boxes at the ball, which is to be given by the Child's Welfare League. Among those who are to have dinner parties and who have engaged boxes are Mrs. Mary Wilcox Longstreet, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. O'Melveny, Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. Connor, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene O. McLaughlin, Mr. and Mrs. Lucien N. Bruns, Mr. and Mrs. Marie Rose Mullen, Mr. and Mrs. Secondo Gusti, Mr. and Mrs. E. Maier, Philip Forre, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Laurence Doherty, Mrs. Thomas L. Dugue, Mrs. E. A. Grant, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Grant, Mr. and Mrs. P. J. McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Howard, Mr. W. W. Gray, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Schneider, Mrs. Arnold Burkholder and Mrs. M. J. McGarry.

Returns to Berkeley.
Miss May Kimball of Berkeley, who has been the guest of Miss Marion Smith of Kingsley Drive and Miss Lucile Mitchell of Hollywood has returned to the northern city, where she is a student at the University of California. During her visit here she was the honoree at many pretty affairs, among them being a dancing party given at the Wilshire Country Club by Miss Kathleen Murphy, Phil Lamont Barber of San Francisco gave a dinner and dancing party at the Alexandria for her.

Wilson-Comegys.
Miss Marie Wilson and Leonard Comegys were married last evening at the Wilshire Methodist Church by Rev. John A. Eby, the pastor. In the presence of relatives and intimate friends.

The bride's twin sister, Miss Irene Wilson, was maid of honor. Miss Helen Wright was bridesmaid. Neil Comegys was his brother's best man and the ushers were Henry Shaffer, Goodwin Knight, and Harold Shugart.

The bride, who is a daughter of Mrs. L. O. Wilson, of Wilshire Place, wore a gown of duchesse lace and chiffon and carried a shower bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor was in pink satin and the bridesmaid in light green. Both carried pink roses. A reception for sixty guests at the home of the bride's mother followed the ceremony. After a motor trip the couple will reside here.

Entertains Brother.
Mrs. Lafayette Isaman of 721 Igloo street has her brother, George W. H. White, a business man of Seattle, as house guest for the winter. She is to give a large dinner party for him next week.

Painter Opens Studio.
Ralph Clarkson, Chicago portrait painter of national reputation, arrived here yesterday and has taken a studio in the city. He will be here several months.

For Miss Bundschu.
Miss Louise Bundschu of Kansas City is cause for a party at which her cousin, Miss Rose Bacon, will entertain today.

Seventy-five girls and young matrons are expected. Miss Bacon is to be assisted by Mrs. E. B. Hall, Miss Eleanor Johnson, Miss Byron White, Miss Florence Kays, Miss Byna Kinsley, Miss Margaret Burner and Mrs. Leon Dean Godshall.

A Charming Affair.
One of the charming affairs of the year was the tea given by Mrs. Cameron Erskine Thom at Wilshire, her beautiful West Adams-street home, in honor of members of the Colonial Dames.

Returns East.
Miss Ruth Houston of Philadelphia, who was the holiday guest of Miss Florence Marsh, has returned home. She stopped here on her way East from six months' tour of the Orient. She was much entertained and was guest of honor at a beautiful dance and buffet supper at which Miss Marsh was hostess.

Bullocks

Bullock's Closes Saturday at One o'Clock Every Saturday Throughout the Year.

Nashua Blankets at $2.75

CLIMATE NOTE.

These are what they call nippy mornings in Southern California, but back in Montreal they would call it a January thaw.

GETTING BACK.

The business pendulum is also swinging back to normalcy. This is another tribute to the approaching administration of President Harding.

MONEY WE HAVE.

The per capita circulation in the United States is now $59.12, which is said to be the greatest in world history. As soon as it reaches $60 we may conclude to draw out ours and quit.

MUST REGISTER.

There are hundreds of citizens in the Ninth Congress District who have changed their residence since last fall's election. Unless they are re-registered this week they will not be able to vote for Maj. Lineberger in the special election of February 15. Better see to it.

WRONG TRACK.

The woman who is trying to bring her husband into her church by indulging a hunger strike is on the wrong trail. Get the husband hungry enough to pray for food and the fight is won. When the husband is full of food and eggs the fact that the wife is not eating anything is not apt to drive him to church.

DRAWY CORK.

Some of the Mayors we vot of must be jealous of the notoriety that goes to the Lord Mayors of Cork. They have had the front page for a long time and give no sign of quitting. Isn't it about time Cork was pulled? We have only just got through with a burnt Cork. The Cork souls seem to be always on foot.

COUNTING THE BALLOTS.

There's a bill before the Assembly which provides for the counting of the ballots every two hours on election days. It requires the attendance of at least eight election officials at each precinct. The only public advantage is in reaching the results a few hours ahead of the present plan. Whether that is worth the added expense may be questioned.

NOT FOR ECONOMY.

All the Taxpayers' Association needs is the action of the Assembly and the Governor in order to put its reorganization bill into effect. But when have the Governor and Assembly abetted any concrete measure for real economy? The machine will look upon the act submitted by the Taxpayers' Association as a bill to wreck the political administration of the State and will be properly horrified. The taxpayers have no standing at Sacramento. They will have to disguise themselves as walking delegates in order to reach the Statehouse. A taxpayer is a worm to be stepped on.

THE BIG NAVIES.

Secretary Daniels says that unless the United States is to join the League of Nations or to secure effective guarantees from the great powers as to disarmament it must proceed to create the greatest navy in the world. Anything less would be a waste of money, according to the Secretary. He insists that it would be pure waste to spend money on an agency of war that could be ineffective in time of need. Anything less than a supreme navy would be useless while England and Japan are carrying out their construction programs. The Secretary assumes that a naval war would be one great engagement of fleet against fleet, but that is a remote contingency. Really, Uncle Sam doesn't want his ships for war purposes, but to extend and preserve peace and good will and answer the call of humanity. If our interests are recognized by the world we have a strength far beyond the weight of our broadsides. At the same time, membership in a League which favors disarmament is good peace insurance.

STAGE RIDICULE.

A dispatch from Washington states that the Protestant clergy are combining to "stop the contemptuous treatment of Protestant ministers, who are seldom represented on the stage or in the films except as effeminate fools."

That there is good cause for protest there is no doubt, and it is eminently desirable that the theatrical profession should be more mindful of its public responsibilities in this connection. Everybody recognizes the subtle effect of such public ridicule and the policemen of the country have already registered their protest against the tendency to make the police ridiculous and contemptible in so many films.

Reverence for religion and respect for the law are highly essential concomitants of civilization, and it is regrettable that any ridicule of either should be so popular for public entertainment. When one considers what a vast number of people accept the films and the stage as "real life" and form their opinions accordingly it is unfortunate that ministers of Christianity should be depicted as semi-imbeciles and the officers of the law as demoted madmen. It is, of course, all glibly explained as in the cause of humor and comedy, but it should be possible to be humorous and entertaining without belittling religion and law and thus undermining the two bulwarks of good citizenship.

SELF-DETERMINATION IN CUBA.

Self-determination in Cuba has suffered a distinct reverse. The government and finances of the island are badly snarled and, despite the influx of thirty American tourists, the island is experiencing a business panic. The trouble seems to have begun with the November Presidential elections, the result of which produced a curious collision of fact and sentiment. On the face of the returns Dr. Alfredo Zayas was elected; but the sentiment of the majority of the people seems to have favored Jose Miguel Gomez, the Liberal candidate, and the Cuban atmosphere is filled with charges that gross frauds were perpetrated by the Menocal administration, of which Zayas is a partisan, to secure his election. "Gomez or mummy!" is the cry of the leaders of the Liberal faction. Gomez holds the rank of general in the Cuban army and the fighting forces of the island are inclined to support him against the government. Specific charges of election frauds have been filed with the Supreme Court of Cuba. It is asserted that the Liberals did not get a square deal, either in the balloting or in counting the ballots, in the November election.

Greatest partisan of Gomez, has issued a statement to the people of Cuba in which he intimates strongly that mutiny would be a virtue if Gen. Gomez is denied the right to the Presidency. He asserts that—

Crimes were innumerable and outrages were terrible in all the cities and in all the electoral colleges, excepting where the government could easily conquer either by having an occasional majority or because the intimidations had borne fruit.

Supporters of Dr. Zayas make the counter charge that radical forces in the islands are trying to foment a Bolshevik revolution and are uttering false charges against the government in order to influence public sentiment in their favor. Each faction has appealed to the State Department at Washington to send troops and war vessels to intimidate the other.

Maj. Gen. Crowder has been sent to Cuba by the State Department to investigate and report on the political conditions; and a representative of the Treasury Department is now there for the purpose of formulating a report concerning the financial situation. Gambling in sugar seems to have occasioned the financial collapse. When sugar was selling around 25 cents a pound the banks of Cuba loaned several millions of dollars on sugar stocks at a valuation of 18 cents a pound. The collapse of the sugar pool caused a run on three of the largest banking institutions on the island. In order to prevent suspension the government declared a moratorium, which will be in effect until February 1 and may be continued. As this extends to all banks, it has interfered seriously with the finances of the State. It is said to be causing losses of several millions to American financiers with investments in Cuba.

Gen. Crowder was selected by President Wilson to make the political report by reason of his familiarity with Cuban politics. Gen. Crowder drafted the general election laws of Cuba, as well as the act of Congress which empowers the United States government to intervene, if necessary, to insure a fair and open presidential election. The November election was held after a proclamation by the American Minister in Havana on August 30 calling upon the Cubans to hold a valid election.

But the Cubans appear to have used the Crowder law as a kind of cloak to conceal dishonest practices. It is charged that in many districts the negroes were driven from the polls by armed mobs, and that in other districts the ballot boxes were opened and the Gomez ballots were destroyed before the counting began.

The Cuban politicians appear to have rejected the best from the election practices of our country and clung to the worst. They followed the methods of Tammany Hall and of the Democratic white minority in some of the Southern States.

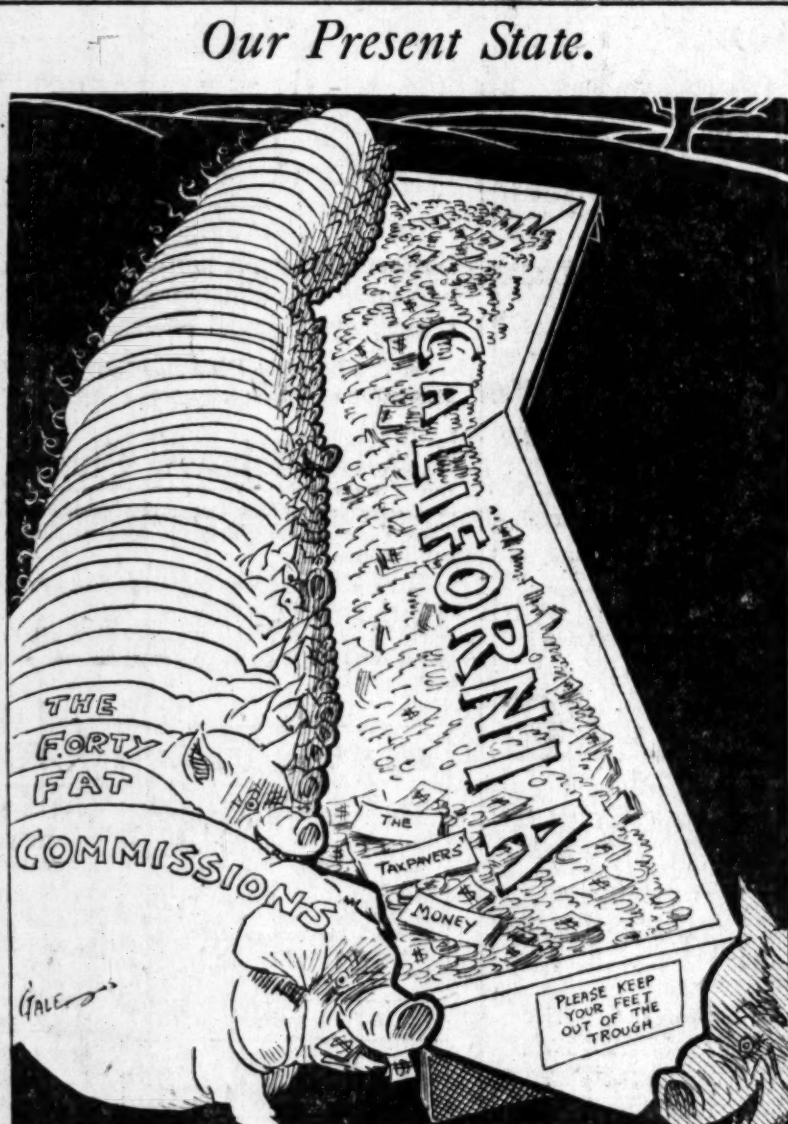

If the Cubans were left to themselves civil war would soon be raging in the island. Each side threatens an appeal to arms; but, curiously enough, they are restrained from overt acts by a wholesome fear, not of American troops, but of prohibition. The Cuban has gained credence in the island that if this country intervenes it will enforce the Eighteenth Amendment in Cuba. What a paradox! The Eighteenth Amendment is considered a greater menace than armed intervention.

It is not likely that the representatives of the present administration will do more than investigate and report. The President will undoubtedly pass the Cuban snarl along to his successor. When in doubt about what the present administration will do it is always safe to bet that it will not do anything.

When this country has been feeding self-determination to the Cubans in too heavy doses, Cuba is in the condition of a diabetic, suffering from too much sugar in the system. If there had been no war speculation in sugar there would have been no financial panic and business stagnation. According to the financial reports, state money in the amount of $60,000,000 was on deposit with the banks now in the hands of receivers. If these institutions were to be declared insolvent there would be a merry mix-up over the responsibility for the loss of that government money. Officials of the present coalition government are said to be involved and they are reported to fear indictments if the Gomez faction, their political enemies, should gain control of the government. It is apparent that the United States will have to watch carefully both the finances and the morals of its brunette ward until the Cuban voters secure an education and develop a character sufficient to enable them to govern themselves under republican institutions.

WHO KILLED THE CAZAR?

That's one of the questions which never will be settled to the satisfaction of everybody. Most people are now convinced that Germany started the war—although some still insist that "perfidious Albion" was really to blame—but there will be less general acceptance of the latest story that the Teutons arranged for the assassination of Nicholas II and most of the members of the imperial Russian family. Yet, after reading the exposure made in the Count Witte memoirs now being published in the Sunday Times concerning the dark ways indulged in by Germans to win diplomatic successes one is not prepared to wholly reject the charge as too wild for belief. A writer in one of the leading London reviews declares that the Czar "was murdered not only by Germans, or what is the same thing, Magyar assassins, but for motives of German policy and with the connivance, if not at the instigation, of the German government." The crime, he says, was determined upon, following the treaty of Brest-Litovsk, which had robbed Russia of vast territory inhabited by 48,000,000 people and rich in resources. The Germans had no faith in Trotsky and Lenin and believed they would disregard the treaty as soon as convenient. The writer says they therefore planned to restore the royal family if the Komantoff would agree to recognize the treaty. Nicholas II refused to become a party to carving Russia for Germany's benefit and his death is said to have been decreed by the German high command. Count Mirbach, the German Ambassador at Moscow, who is said to have been entrusted with the arrangements for the murder of the royal family, was put out of the way by assassination, it is declared, so that he could never reveal the authors of the plot. The story is a hard one to believe, but so many strange things happened during the war that it is not beyond the range of possibility.

LOW PRICES.
Testifying before the Senate Finance Committee Col. Wood of Philadelphia asserted recently that the Department of Justice had conducted a propaganda against business in general instead of exposing specific instances of profiteering, with the result that the profiteers had gone free, while a vast amount of unrest and industrial confusion had resulted. He said that the government had been advocating and encouraging a buyers' strike, that the Attorney General and his staff had dealt in generalities and that their misdirected campaign had ended in discredit attaching to all lines of business.

Other witnesses testified that the result of the strike of the buying public had been to cause scores of businesses to close their doors, throwing more than 100,000 men and women out of employment. According to the opinion of the witnesses there will be a brief period of lowered prices, followed by advances in many lines by reason of slackened production that will carry them back to the peak of 1920 prices. A strike of buyers can do just as much damage as the average industrial strike. When the public stops buying the wholesalers find their stocks increasing; they cancel orders given to the manufacturer and the manufacturer closes his plant, more often from compulsion than from choice; for he can seldom secure credit from his banker for goods that are going into storage. He is forced to close down because he has no source from which to secure the money to fill the pay envelopes of his employees.

A shortage in necessities of many lines is now looming by reason of the failure of the public to make its customary purchases. Everyone is holding off on the purchase of something until prices fall. Yet, in a number of lines, prices are at a point where they cannot go lower and permit profitable production until wages fall. The average manufacturer knows the destructive violence that attends a strike and he prefers closing his plant to lowering wages.

There is a double menace in the closing of so many agencies of production. It throws American workmen out of employment and opens the American market for foreign-made goods. At the present time the textile industry is not producing one-half the amount of clothing necessary for the monthly consumption. Many of us have already worn our old clothes until they are threadbare and we are forced to the necessity of making a new purchase to keep out of the clutches of the police. This old-clothes game has played itself out. But, as we return in a body to resume our accustomed buying, there is not half enough American-made goods to go around. What happens? While we purchase goods made by foreign labor the American workman who should have made these goods will be standing somewhere in a bread line.

When prices were at their peak and evidences of undeniable profiteering were appearing, The Times advised its readers to make no more than absolutely necessary purchases. But the time has now arrived for expansion. Prices of most necessities

CRIME AND GUNS.

BY ALMA WHITTAKER.

We read crime and talk crime as a daily mental diet. The news columns, not only in this country, but in most "civilized" countries, are filled with stories of violence, robbery, murder and misery, while weighty editorials dissect and philosophize on, condemn and deplore the "crime wave" every day. The average citizen has almost passed the shock stage; "crime" has almost ceased to be sensational; we have arrived at the point where the headlines and the first paragraph capture our interest in passivity, after which we grunt disgustedly, sigh perhaps and pass on to the film news and the sporting section. But wherever two or three people are gathered together for a little conversational discussion and we usually conclude by dismissing it with a few caustic remarks on the police and some profound comments as to possible causes—and leave it at that.

Yet actually we are in the throes of a monstrous state of affairs in which it is obvious that many thousands of young men have taken to crime as a profession, in which robbery and murder, hold-ups and outrages have become a "business," a recognized form of adventurous commerce, and every and any citizen may become the day's victim. It is, in fact, a state of war. Authorities everywhere are asking for more police, urging the institution of vigilance committees, devising severe methods of punishment.

New York's Police Commissioner is boasting that: "More criminals have been killed fleeing from policemen and brought in on a stretcher since I have been commissioner than ever before, and there will be more yet."

There's more law in a policeman's club than on all the statute books. This sounds brutal and lawless, but there is a good deal of truth in it. When the leader of these gangs is beaten up by a cop and taken to the station in an ambulance he is disgraced forever in the eyes of his fellows.

Both these gentlemen, it will be observed, believe in meeting violence with violence, brutality with brutality, and in their minds the police must be superbrutes to cope with the debacle.

There must surely be something wrong in this theory. Especially as it doesn't work. After all, we do prefer to think of the police as guardians and protectors, as the custodians of safety, as enforcers of the law, rather than as independent instruments of swift vengeance upon their own initiative. It is, of course, easy to criticize the police, whose duties are obviously dangerous and difficult. But, at the same time, it is surely true that "in quietness and confidence lies our strength" and that, if our police are not superior in self-control, judgment and general ethics to the criminals they are employed to catch, society merely has two factions of violence instead of one.

SHOULD BLOT THEM OUT.

As President Wilson, sick but courageous, is getting ready to retire from the Presidency it seems rather ungenerous to stigmatize him as "the most hated man in the United States." An Associated Press reporter attributes this description to a great Republican. If the Congressman is correctly reported allowance must be made for the fact that he spoke in the heat of debate. Many words are uttered at Washington which give pain even to the orators when seen in cold print. President Wilson is not the most hated man in the land. He forced some shortsighted policies on the country during his eight-year occupancy of the greatest office in the world, but, taken all in all, he lived up to the traditions of the office. Of course, he made mistakes. He is not a superman, incapable of error, but a frail mortal like the rest of us. Gifted he must be above the average man and he has freely given to the world the treasures of his brain. His state papers alone during the war insure for him fame. The writer of the fourteen points can never be the "most hated man in America," even though the points were not all picked into the peace treaty. When President Wilson goes into retirement he will carry with him the best wishes of the American people and letters should be taken to wipe from the record those too-hasty words, "the most hated man in the United States."

REPRESENTATION.

Almost everybody in San Francisco is a politician. The registration there in proportion to number of inhabitants is greater than in Los Angeles or any other part of the State. That inspires a Bay City legislator with the idea of basing the legislative apportionment upon the number of registered voters instead of the actual population, as contemplated by the Constitution. Little things like the Constitution, the law or precedent do not deeply concern the ordinary San Francisco politician. He is interested in keeping his job and making another like it for his neighbor. San Francisco has always been able to run the machine at Sacramento, but in view of the fact that the population of Los Angeles is now greatly in excess of that of the Bay City an apportionment based upon the actual number of inhabitants may threaten its domination in the future. To base apportionment upon registration would help some. It will at least furnish an argument and a chance to compromise. It is reasonably certain that Los Angeles county will be traded out of some of the legislative strength to which her numbers would ordinarily entitle her. The bear is the sign and symbol of California, but Los Angeles is more used to being a goat.

CONSERVATIVE.

The Johnson bill prohibiting immigration for one year, which was passed by the House as an emergency measure, will be hung up for some months in the Senate until the emergency can be proven. A House emergency creates about as much of an impression on the Senate as a dewdrop on the face of the Atlantic. The United States government will not go off at half-cock while the Senators are drawing their pay.

"How Come?"

There may or may not be some significance in the fact that Haverhill, having elected a Socialist Mayor, is able to report that it is the only city in the commonwealth having vacant houses and tenements.—[Springfield Union.]

DROLL STORIES.

Repeating a Joke.

The subway train was swaying from side to side and a passenger who hadn't even a strap to hang to was suffering as a consequence. Three times he landed on the lap of a stout matron, who finally lost her temper and inquired: "Here, what are you doing? What do you call yourself?" "Well," came the smiling reply, "I think I must now describe myself as a lap-lander."

The joke appealed to the matron, who not only forgave him, but decided to retaliate in humor. She tried it first on her husband. "Yes, dear," she said, "three times he landed on my lap, and when I asked him what he was he said an Eskimo."—[Exchange.]

He Was an "Ornery" Goat.

Uncle Tom arrived at the station with the goat he was to ship North, but the freight agent was having difficulty in billing him. "What's this goat's destination, uncle?" he asked. "Suh."

"I say, what's his destination? Where's he going?" Uncle Tom searched carefully for the tag. A bit of frayed cord was all that remained. "Dat ornery goat!" he exploded wrathfully. "Yo' know, suh, dat is ornery goat done completely up his destination."—[American Legion Weekly.]

Still Ahead.

Harry Grimsey, a Terre Haute, Ind., Club member from Georgia and is still in love with his native State. He boasts of its wonders, and the last time he discoursed on it, was telling of the wonderful bargains he got in watermelons.

"What's this goat's destination, uncle?" he asked. "Suh."

"I say, what's his destination? Where's he going?" Uncle Tom searched carefully for the tag. A bit of frayed cord was all that remained. "Dat ornery goat!" he exploded wrathfully. "Yo' know, suh, dat is ornery goat done completely up his destination."—[American Legion Weekly.]

Accommodating.

The little country inn was picturesque but leaky. Late one night a guest rang his bell urgently and the landlord answered him.

"I say, look here," snorted the indignant traveler, who was still in bed. "The roof's letting in the rain and I'm drenched!"

"Very good, sir," remarked the landlord amiably as he retired. A few minutes later he came back with a large washbasin.

"This will make things right, sir," he said, still amiably. "I'll just put this on your chest; then when it's full, ring the bell, or shout out, and I'll have another empty one ready."—[Tit-Bits.]

A Fish Story.

The story that made millions laugh—that one which includes "Thunder! That's a fish!"—has, we think, a pretty good running mate in the following recent one. A countryman was standing on a fish pier where the day's catch was being landed. Presently a swordfish of monstrous size was hoisted up and the old fellow stared at it in wonder and amazement. He positively could not believe his senses, and when at last he recovered himself sufficiently to speak it was only to exclaim: "The man that caught that fish is a dora liar!"—[Boston Transcript.]

The American's Creed for You and Me

NOBLESSE OBLIGE.

By John Strong.

AMERICA A REALITY.

The foundations of every human progress were laid in soul-values. The men and women who gave their souls to the work of living are responsible for the world we have today.

Your soul and mine have got to function if we are to have and to hold these great gains.

We're eating the cake our forebears prepared and it's certainly delicious—this twentieth century life. But we can't eat our cake and have it, too. We've got to add to the supply or our future generations will go back to the jungle to find their souls.

The tremendous meaning for you and me of America, the land of equal rights, privileges and opportunity, must become more of a reality.

We take it as a matter of course; but it will not stay put as a matter of course.

It will take as much of our souls to keep it as it took of our fathers' souls to create it. You and I cannot put our obligation on anyone else. Let's memorize our Article No. 1:

"Universal nobility was created on the American continent when the declaration of Independence and equality of rights, privileges and opportunity were guaranteed by the American Constitution. Title, 'Citizen U.S.A.' Therefore Noblesse Oblige is the equal American obligation."

Disowned Him.

Kitty, 4 years old, had been naughty and her father had had to administer vigorous correction before going to business.

WILDE BACKED TO BEAT PETE HERMAN.
(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
LONDON, Jan. 12.—Despite the announcement of the British Boxing Board of Control that in view of the lack of official information regarding the decision, obtained by Joe Lynch over Pete Herman in New York, it is impossible to render a decision regarding Jimmy Wilde's right to the world's championship if he defeats Herman here tomorrow, Welsh miners are backing Wilde to the limit at odds of 5 to 4. English experts expect that Bombardier Wells will beat "Batting" Levinsky, another of tomorrow's contestants. A fifth warner was laid on the outcome of the Wilde-Hegman bout.

WILLARD LOOKING FOR NEW JERSEY QUARTERS.
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
TRENTON (N. J.) Jan. 12.—Secretary Walter Turley of the State Boxing Commission today received a letter from Jess Willard, ex-heavyweight champion from Lawrence, Kan., asking him if there was a suitable place in New Jersey for training quarters and a "good quiet place" for living quarters.

MUST COME TO COAST.
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
BOSTON, Jan. 12.—Negotiations looking toward a football game here next fall between University of California and Boston College are under way. Frank Reynolds, graduate manager of athletics at Boston College said today. The local college has invited the westerners to come here November 5. California had asked for further details and is considering the proposition, he said.

PITTSBURGH (Pa.) Jan. 12.—Speaking of the University of California football team East for a two-game series in 1922, Karl E. Davis, graduate manager of the University of Pittsburgh, said today. "Pittsburgh will be glad to play California."

BERKELEY (Cal.) Jan. 12.—Graduate Manager Luther Nichols of the University of California said today that any trip of the California football team East was out of the question on account of studies and other considerations. A team desiring to play California at any time would have to come to the Pacific Coast, he said.

NOW BLAME TELEPHONE.
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
CAMBRIDGE (Mass.) Jan. 12.—Harvard's football strategy in important games for several years has been developed in part over telephone wires, while the games were in progress, it was learned today. In the games with Yale and Princeton, the last two years, the game with Center College last fall and in the intercollegiate game with University of Oregon last season a year ago, Crimmon coaches perched on the top of the stands telephoned criticisms and suggestions to supplement the side line observations of Head Coach Bob Fisher.

EXPULSION OF FOUR BALL PLAYERS.
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
CHICAGO, Jan. 12.—Players Rumber, Borton, Magert and Dale, involved in alleged baseball crookedness in the Pacific Coast League, today were expelled from organized baseball by the National Association of Minor Leagues.

THE National association also decided to punish the players who have been playing with Fred McMullin, an indicted member of the Chicago White Sox, on a semiprofessional club in California. Six or seven players who are members of teams in organized baseball have been playing on the same team with McMullin.

The National association adopted resolutions calling upon all players to show cause why they should not be cited for their actions.

Rowdy" Elliott Glad to Come Back to Coast.
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
CHICAGO, Jan. 12.—"Rowdy" Elliott, catcher, was sold today by the Brooklyn National League champions to the Sacramento (Cal.) club. Outfielder Allen was traded to Birmingham for Outfielder Bert Griffith and a cash consideration, and William McCabe, an outfielder, was released to Rochester of the International League, the Brooklyn management announced.

OAKLAND (Cal.) Jan. 12.—"Delighted," that's what "Rowdy" Elliott said this morning when informed he has been sold to Sacramento. "That's the club I wanted to play with," Elliott announced at the close of last season that he would not report to Brooklyn again, but wanted to play in the Coast League.

"Costs all you make to eat up there," was the reason he gave.

NEW YORK DECLINES TO JOIN BOXING BOARD.
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—The New York State Boxing Commission and license committee today declined to become a member of the newly-formed National Boxing Association of the United States. The decision was made public in an official statement, which said:

It is our decision that we cannot subordinate our function and authority, clearly defined in the Walker law, to the jurisdiction of an outside unofficial body of any character.

The Massachusetts State Boxing Commission has taken a similar position.

Gain Notoriety.

(BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.)
Golf is one day more ancient than it was twenty-four hours before, but slightly less honorable due to the fact that it seems no longer to care who plays it.

THE first annual tournament between the morning and afternoon sporting writers of Los Angeles at the Los Angeles Country Club has started here today. It is argued that nobody could play as poor golf as most of the scribes did and still be trying, but those making these insinuations do not realize that the members of our literati are not very nimble from the ears down.

However, the thing looked so bad that the better diggers, and from now on will be known as the Gophers of the Green.

RATHER SOFT.
The Morning Glories shone with the effulgence of a 10 cent package of Rising Sun stove polish, and defeated the Squirts, who were as handy as they had previously in baseball and football.

After the last ball of the game had been holed, or to speak more grammatically, held, the Gophers assembled and gave three cheers for themselves. Having the largest aggregate score by some 700 strokes they thought they had won, until the rules of the game were explained to them. Whereupon they took the three cheers back.

It is estimated that the Gophers are (Continued on Second Page.)

Pure, Rich Blood Will Keep Your Body Vigorous and Healthy

When impurities creep into your blood the first symptoms are usually a loss of appetite, followed by a gradual lessening of energy, the system becomes weaker day by day, until you feel yourself on the verge of a breakdown.

This whole condition is a warning that nature needs assistance in giving the system a general housecleaning.

Nearly everybody needs a few bottles of S. S. S., the great vegetable blood remedy, to cleanse out all impurities about twice a year. It is an excellent idea to take this precaution to keep the system in a vigorous condition so as to more easily resist disease to which every one is subject. S. S. S. is without an equal as a general tonic and system builder. It improves the appetite and gives new strength and vitality to both old and young.

PHILADELPHIA COMES TO LIFE.

Professional Court Tennis Tournament Today.

Winner to Hook Up With Champion Jay Gould.

Title Match Will be Staged on January 19.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 12.—For the first time in the history of the "Princes' Game" in America, a professional court tennis tournament is to be played here. Arrangements have been completed by the members of the Philadelphia Racket Club to have the event decided on its courts beginning tomorrow.

The winner of the tournament will meet Jay Gould, open and amateur champion of America, in a nine-set challenge round match. The first four sets of which are to be played on the Philadelphia club's court on January 13, and the remainder of the contest at the same place on January 21. If the challenger defeats Gould he will receive a purse of $1000, but if Gould wins the professional will receive only $500.

BEST IN FIVE.
Each match in the professional tournament will be for the best in five sets, the deciding set to be "deuce and advantage." The players who are to compete in the professional matches have been drawn as follows: R. Dutton, Tennis and Racket Club of Boston vs. Joseph Moss, Philadelphia Racket Club; Jock Soutar, Philadelphia Racket Club vs. Otto Glocker, Boston Athletic Association and C. J. "Punch" Fairs, Long Island, N. Y., a bye.

On the second day the winners of the first two matches will meet and the victor in that contest will play Fairs, to decide which of them is to play against the American amateur and open champion in the challenge round two days later.

FOR THE TITLE.
In the event of his winning against the professional who will oppose him it would not surprise the followers of this game to find Mr. Gould asserting his ability to play again successfully, for the world's open championship title, which he relinquished in November, 1916. In 1914 Gould beat the English professional, G. F. Cover for the world's championship, in Philadelphia. There was to have been a return match in England the

McMULLIN NOT TO PLAY AGAIN.

Fred McMullin, one of the indicted White Sox, has retired from the Managers' Baseball Association, and will play no more until after his trial, it was announced last night by Joe Raftery, secretary of the association.

Steps were taken at the meeting in Chicago yesterday to penalize players in organized baseball who have appeared in games with or against McMullin or any of the other players now awaiting trial.

"McMullin has decided to quit the association because of the embarrassment which it was causing some of the other players," said Raftery.

Following year, but the World War upset all chance of its being even thought of, and two years later, Mr. Gould authorized Mr. W. H. T. Huhn of Philadelphia, to write a letter to England to the effect that he (Gould) had relinquished his title of world's open court tennis champion as he felt it inexpedient for him to defend his title.

In 1919, when it was announced in Philadelphia that Mr. Gould was willing to defend his title of world's tennis champion, the English press published a letter signed "Wentworth" claiming that as Mr. Gould had relinquished the title and had not played a return match when challenged, under the agreement, the title had reverted to the English professional, Covey.

INTRODUCE BASEBALL BILL.
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
AUSTIN (Tex.) Jan. 12.—A bill providing imprisonment from two to ten years for conspiring to "throw" a baseball game or other sports, was introduced in the Senate today by Senator Dorough of Bowie.

SCANDAL HITS GAME OF GOLF.

engaged in more strokes than are seen at Poughkeepsie every year, and it is just possible that they mistook this golf race for a skating contest. Their average pace over the course was thirty-two strokes to the minute, but they would have been splashing badly at the nineteenth hole had it been there.

In a way it was a skulking contest featured by the only beaming that ever destroyed a golf ball. Feats off in the best Lipton form, Warder Fowler yelled "fore," according to the unabridged rule book, so as to give a Gopher out in front time to duck into his hole. Matt Gallagher merely thought Warder was talking about four cylinders. Instead, Warder was hitting on six cylinders. A good golfer pulls his head in like a mud turtle in moments of peril. Matt stood with his up in the air like a giraffe apparently greatly interested in what was taking place on the other side of the distant horizon. The shot struck him just back of the car, and the gutta percha missile flattened out until it looked like a pepperoni wafer. Gallagher merely wiped the wafer from the back of his neck and proceeded as before. Matt won the iron head-scar.

Harry Grayson was ruled off at the start for picking his teeth with a niblick in public, and Francis Perret was set back seventeen holes for trying to substitute a square ball for the regular one.

ON HIS LOOKS.
The green committee was compelled to disarm Ed Moriarty, who entered the contest with a hockey club, after which Ed got by on his good looks. He and Ed O'Malley tied for personal pulchritude, and a large crowd of spectators followed Mr. O'Malley under the course under the impression that he was Francis X. Bushman.

Fine Norton appeared in a green uniform and harmonized beautifully with that young literary pinkie, Garrie L. Darsie, one of the guys in the world with a name which can be started at either end. Darsie is reverberant and makes every useful around the office, so Moriarty says.

Hill Henry declined to appear, preferring to rest his laurels in a great catch which he made in left field seven years ago. Hill's hands are still hot and steaming from that catch.

GOLFING EPIC.
"Read" Hegstis played a rhythmic game, reminding many of a historical epic, while Ray Smith was always approaching without quite getting there.

Paul Lowry and Clyde Bruckman offered to spot the Gophers to certain advantages by using marbles instead of a hump rope, cigar holder and a set of lemon taffy golf clubs.

The defeated Gophers will eat Mr. Leavitt's golf clubs as his guests at a party to be given later in the week.

BASEBALL SCHEDULE OF MANAGERS' NINES.

The schedule for the coming Sunday of the Baseball Managers' Association embraces twenty-six games for the local sandlots and as some of the best of the teams are scheduled to tangle some lively life are certain to result. Gene Murphy will travel to Brookside Park to engage the Haas-Cox aggregation in what should be one of the best of the AA class contests as the family aggregation are going good and a tough bunch of customers to take anything away from in their own backyard.

The following is the schedule:
Orange vs. Ventura Bank of Italy at Ventura.
Pomona Merchants vs. El Monte at El Monte.
Pasadena Elks vs. Fullerton at Fullerton.
Los Angeles Police vs. Ontario at Ontario.
San Gabriel vs. Hammond Lumber Company at San Gabriel.
Victory Post, No. 54, vs. Orange at Orange.
Cine-Cine Co. vs. Tujunga Film Co. at Exposition Park.
Gene Murphy's vs. Haas-Cox at Brookside Park.
Piedra Redi-Ora vs. Faby Astorbury at Exposition Park.

POLO SEASON WILL START JANUARY 29.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.)
DEL MONTE, Jan. 12.—The Del Monte Polo Club makes an announcement of the program of events during the invitational tournament which will usher in the polo season in California on the 29th of this month. Five matches are carded and there will be cups set up for senior and junior teams.

On the opening day, Saturday, January 29, the first round of the junior cups will be contested. On the following day, Sunday, the senior team will get into action. On Wednesday, February 2, there will be a special match, and on the following Saturday and Sunday, February 6 and 7, the junior and senior teams, respectively, will cross mallets.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
SIOUX CITY (Iowa) Jan. 12.—Earl MacArthur, bentamweight of Sioux City, defeated Joey Schwartz of Minneapolis in a ten-round bout here tonight. During the eighth round, two sections of the temporary stands, on which approximately 1000 persons were seated, collapsed. No one was injured.

An Important Job

SETTLING and managing an estate is important work that requires specialized experience, sound judgment and untiring care.

The individual executor may be prompted by the best intentions, but he is after all subject to the human limitations of one man. His time may be fully occupied with his own affairs; he may not have the special experience necessary to enable him to cope with the many details involved. His death would necessitate the appointment of a new executor to continue his work.

The wise precaution is to appoint as your Executor and Trustee a strong trust organization which operates safely and efficiently under all conditions.

You can guard against loss or mistakes in the settlement of your estate by naming us in your will to act as your Executor and Trustee. We will be glad of an opportunity to explain in a personal talk the advantages and economy of such an arrangement.

$100 SINCERITY PLEDGE
Have your physical ailments proven a puzzle to your best advisers? If so, this message is meant for you and to all others who appreciate definite knowledge of the cause of ill health. The secret of your impaired health lies within the spinal column. You know, by common knowledge, that the nerves control and maintain every function of the body. These nerves pass out in pairs through the openings between each vertebra of the spine. The vital question is, can a joint of the spine become misplaced sufficiently far enough to compress the nerves? Let an X-Ray picture answer this question. You may thus examine your own spine. Seeing is knowing.
"Nerve pressure," a product of a spinal misplacement, is the direct cause of 95 per cent of human ailments. If you suffer there is a misplacement in your spine. To prove that my diagnosis is correct an X-Ray picture will be taken, reproducing the spine. If this picture proves incorrect, that a misplacement is not present, a Sincerity Pledge of $100.00 will be given. This offer is to any man, woman or child who suffers and wants to get well.
Make your appointment today. Examination and complete X-Ray and Fluoroscopic Laboratory.

NERVOUS, IRRITABLE, AILING WOMEN

Mrs. Britten Tells How She Was Restored To Health After Suffering for More Than A Year.

Another Triumph for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Dimondale, Mich.—"I had inflammation and a displacement and weakness, and it had been neglected so long that it caused great pain, and this affected my mind and nerves so that I was very irritable. I had severe pains every month, so that I was often obliged to lie in bed for two days at a time. I suffered for more than a year before my friends said, 'Why don't you try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?' So I purchased one bottle after another until I had taken ten bottles, then Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I received so much benefit from this treatment that I am now able to do my own work."—Mrs. W. D. Britten, R. No. 2, Dimondale, Mich.

Compound has relieved me of these nervous feelings and pains and I am much better in every way. I don't know just how many bottles I have taken, but I took it for nearly a year and it has done me a world of good."—Mrs. JESSIE GRANGER, R. No. 8, Box 51, Kalamazoo, Michigan.
Good health is a woman's greatest asset. With it she may be the inspiration of her husband, a happy mother, and the life of the home. Without it she suffers agonies herself, household duties are a burden, and her family is made miserable by her condition.
Is it any wonder that these women were nervous and irritable after suffering so long from such deranged conditions? Such ailments act directly upon the nerves, and it has been said that a large percentage of nervous prostration, nervous dependency, "the blues," and nervous irritability of women arise from some derangement of the female organism.
If women who are in this condition would only profit by the experience of others and take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once, much suffering and unhappiness would be averted, as everyone knows a nervous, irritable, ailing mother makes the home unhappy and her condition irritates both husband and children.
Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Allments Peculiar to Women" will be sent to you free upon request. Write to The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts. This book contains valuable information.

MEN STICK TO FREAK STYLES.

Oddities of Dress Will Stay, Tailors Are Told.

Bay City Man Chosen Head of Coast Association.

Los Angeles Sets Fashion in Absurd, Speaker Says.

Freak clothes are in all probability here to stay, Sam Levy, president of the Pacific Coast Merchant Tailors' Association, declared yesterday. Mr. Levy stated that by 1950, unless the styles change, people may see the sports wearing one-button sack suits, with swaying skirts, with lace on the ends of the sleeves, flaring hips, silver cigarette cases dangling from wristlets, lace center pieces, knee-length trousers finished with crocheted bottoms, fancy silk hose and patent-leather spats. Mr. Levy added he expected the move toward the ridiculous to be checked within a few years.

Mr. Levy's talk came at the end of the afternoon session of the merchant tailors' meeting. Committee members reported all afternoon and the most exciting thing was the report of the nomination committee. The officers for the ensuing year were nominated, and the delegates to the convention moved that the nominations be closed, and those nominated be declared elected. The nominations were:

BAY CITY MAN LEADS.
W. L. Growell, San Francisco, president; George Goldsmith, Los Angeles, first vice-president; K. S. Irwin, Portland, second vice-president; Hyman Jacobs, San Francisco, treasurer; W. J. McMahon, Los Angeles, honorary secretary.
For the executive committee the following were named: S. G. Levy, Los Angeles; Louis Schelline and Byron Butley, of Oakland; Elias Johnson and J. R. McMahon, of Portland; John Straub and George Book of Sacramento; August Steigler and E. A. Williams, of San Francisco; Harry Suter and Theodore Looman of Seattle; M. Pamponi and F. Fiola, of Stockton, and M. Malone and E. Bonifant, of Los Angeles.
The wives of the delegates were the guests of the merchant tailors yesterday afternoon at a tea daisant at the Ambassador Hotel. Mr. Edwin Martley was the hostess.
At the meeting of the tailors to-day all of the business of the convention will be completed. There will be an exhibit of freak clothes from all parts of the West.
WILL JUDGE FREAKS.
Sam Levy is the authority for the statement that Los Angeles supplies the most ridiculous costumes and the judges today will determine just what is the most absurd fashion in man's tailoring.
Mr. Levy and Thomas H. Lipps, a local attorney, who has been prominent in the arrangement of the details of the local convention will leave here Monday to attend the national convention of merchant tailors scheduled to meet at Chicago. Mr. Levy is going to the national convention with the intention of increasing the national fund for advertising from $5,000,000 to $10,000,000. This was decided upon by the Pacific Coast tailors yesterday morning when it was learned that only half of the amount set aside for advertising by the national association would be available for the western tailors. It is believed that $5,000,000 can be used here advantageously.

IDENTIFIED BY CROOK IN HIS FINGER.

Man Wanted Here on Check Charge Found in Milwaukee.

A crooked little finger on the left hand of Elmer J. Brusa, a description of which was sent broadcast throughout the United States, resulted in his arrest yesterday in Milwaukee after a search of nearly a year. He was arrested there by the police for check fraud. Brusa, who has been endeavoring to apprehend Brusa, also known as William Brockman, on a charge of passing three fictitious checks aggregating $955, on Arthur O. Appel of 456 West Forty-seventh street, a cashier for the Santa Fe Railway.
According to the information given to Constable Thomas, Brusa ingratiated himself with Mrs. Appel for nine months. One day he rushed into Mrs. Appel's office and presented the three checks, which were cashed. He then disappeared. This was last March.
The officer had a description that would fit almost any person, until he learned of the crooked little finger and the fact that Brusa had a mother in Milwaukee. After many months he appeared there, was identified by the finger and was arrested. Steps will be taken at once to extradite him for trial.

SUING EX-FRANCEE.

Auctioneer Demands Presents He Gave; Woman Wants Damages.

Max Kaufman, an auctioneer, demands in a suit against Mrs. Ruth Gould, formerly his fiancée, a $250 ring, a $25 watch, a brief case worth $15 and a manure set, $11, representing a total value of $404. He says he gave her under her promise to marry him.
Mrs. Gould broke off the engagement because she said Mr. Kaufman became intoxicated after he had promised to quit drinking.
Previous to the filing of Mr. Kaufman's suit, Mrs. Gould demanded $10,000 damages because of humiliation and embarrassment she suffered by the breaking off of the engagement and the loss she suffered by the premature sale of a portion of her manufacturing business.

DOCTOR WINS SUIT.

Dr. Charles W. Anderson, defending the $5000 damage suit of Miss Highland Reader for reputed malpractice, won the verdict in a jury trial before Judge Myers yesterday. Miss Reader claimed her back was burned during an operation. Dr. Anderson, who was represented by Attorney W. H. O'Brien, contended that the discoloration of her back was due to bed burns.

W. L. Growell.

WOMEN'S WORK, WOMEN'S CLUBS.

BY MYRA NYE.

Wa-Wan Club.
Notable for its setting and distinguished for its own merit, the musical program of the Wa-Wan Club yesterday afternoon in the bell room of the Ambassador combined simplicity with gorgeousness. This, the first musical program given in the new hotel, proved the acoustics of the spacious room to be of the best, for those seated in the recesses of the galleries and on the carpeted steps of the dais farthest from the stage, could hear the rich contralto tones of Mme. Anna Ruzsa Sprotte and the clear soprano of Mrs. Hulda Dietz with as facile enjoyment as they did the orchestral number.
It was a Gertrude Ross day, for she it was who presided as vice-president of the club in the absence of Mrs. William E. Mabee, who is in New York City; she it was who accompanied Mrs. Sprotte and the clear soprano of Mrs. Hulda Dietz with as facile enjoyment as they did the orchestral number.
The series of Japanese art songs sung by Mrs. Dietz, that climaxed the recital.

With the opening number, the majestically sweet aria from "Lohengrin" (L. Schellman) comprised the well-chosen and balanced group by the Alexandria quartet composed of Omar Dietz, first violin; F. D. Phillips, second violin; Joseph Heindl, cello, and Joseph Riccardi, double bass.
The group by Gertrude Ross: "Love-joy," "Butterfly" and "Fajita" was sympathetically interpreted by Mrs. Dietz, while the orchestral accompaniment enhanced the sweet charm of the simple songs.
All of the women who appeared as members of the Wa-Wan, which makes it another distinct achievement for the club.

HE'S NO HOME BODY?

Wife and Her Mother Declare Husband Preferred to Stay.

Clarence W. McCaslin had no affection for his wife and did not care for a home, the mother of Mrs. Bonnie E. McCaslin testified in the latter's divorce proceedings before Judge Walton J. Wood yesterday.
"I offered to furnish and pay the rent of another home if he would keep away from his associates," the mother-in-law testified.
Mrs. McCaslin declared her husband stayed out at night and took his supper away from home, against her protests. The case was submitted.

KILLED BY STREET CAR.

Aged Woman Walks in Front of Moving Tram; Expires Instantly.

Mrs. Elizabeth Buchanan, 73 years of age, of 38 North Main street, was instantly killed yesterday when she was struck by a Los Angeles Railway street car on North Main, near First street. According to witnesses the aged woman walked in front of a street car in charge of Motorman C. E. Greenly and Conductor William J. The body was removed to the undertaking establishment of Moses & Moses.

MAY INSIST ON TRIAL.

District Attorney Revives Charge Against Member of Bar.

Although the case of Earl Rogers, a criminal lawyer, who is accused of assault with intent to murder Deputy Sheriff Couts, was recently taken off calendar with the intimation that it might not be tried, it was indicated yesterday that the District Attorney intends to insist on a trial. The case was placed on the calendar Tuesday in Judge Willis' court and set for trial on March 11. John L. Richardson, attorney for Mr. Rogers, filed a motion to set aside the information and argument on this will be heard on March 11 also.

Y.W.C.A. SEEKS A HOME FOR CHILDREN.

The International Institute for Young Women, which is the immigration department of the Y.W.C.A., is seeking a home or homes for two pretty young Russian girls, whose mother is dead and whose father is out of work and is unable to care for them. The girls are 11 and 13 years old, pretty and good, according to Miss Elizabeth Beggs, who has the matter in charge. The institute is at 1316 Pleasant avenue, telephone 41113.

PIMPLY? WELL, DON'T BE

People Notice It. Drive Them Off with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cured with "a dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints, and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective results. Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 15c and 30c.—Advertisement.

VISIONS MEXICO STRONG, UNITED.

Krutchschnitt Sees Evidence of Real Readjustment.

Lifting of Export Duty on Copper Aid to Workers.

Confidence Felt in Obregon, States Mine Manager.

Mexico, politically and industrially, is undergoing a period of readjustment and from this rehabilitation a unified nation will arise, in the opinion of Julius Krutchschnitt, Jr., general manager in the southwest of the mining interests of the American Smelting and Refining Company, who is in the city.

Mr. Krutchschnitt, whose headquarters are in Tucson, has spent a large part of the past ten years in the mining districts of the southern republic and is thoroughly familiar with business and labor conditions in the northern tier of States. He has recently returned from an extensive tour of the Ures district of Sonora, in which are located the famous copper holdings of the Cananea Consolidated Company, those of the Moctezuma Copper Company, and those of a score of less known producing companies.

There is tangible evidence of a desire on the part of the Obregon government to mitigate the possible hardships in the industrial sense, of this reconstruction period, in the repeal of the export duty on copper, said Mr. Krutchschnitt yesterday.

WORKERS AFFECTED

"Metal mining in the northern Mexican States is the paramount industry and the depressed condition of the metal market of necessity affects the laboring classes of Sonora and Chihuahua in particular. The shutting down of operations by mining companies in the Ures district alone would throw out of employment approximately 10,000 men."

The new government's policy in lifting the duty has resulted in continued activity at such camps as Cananea and Nacozari, where the mines of the Moctezuma Company are situated, stated Mr. Krutchschnitt.

Resumption of mining activity in the southwestern part of the United States and Mexico, will, in his opinion, follow naturally upon the readjustment of foreign exchange and the demand abroad for metals produced in this country.

CONFIDENCE IN OBREGON.

"While the policy of the new government has not, to my knowledge, been definitely stated, there is a firm belief that it will be fair to labor and capital," Mr. Krutchschnitt de-

INDICTED MAN ON JURY LIST.

Federal Panel Carries Name of Defendant in Series of Bank Cases.

After Otis B. Berry had qualified for service on the January term jury in U. S. District Judge Bledsoe's court yesterday and had been certified by the court clerk as eligible, it was discovered that Mr. Berry is due to appear this morning in Judge Reeve's court to answer to a charge of grand larceny. Judge Bledsoe then ordered Berry's name stricken from the list.

The indictment for grand larceny charges Berry and a number of others with having embezzled securities worth $43,000 from Thomas Donahue of Altoona, Pa. The indictment grew out of investigations of a group of men said to have been implicated in supposed bunko operations directed by E. A. Hutchings, known as "Big Hutch." Berry was formerly manager of the Hollywood branch of the Citizens' Trust and Savings Bank of this city.

The problem of organized labor, which already looms in the offing, with have to be met and grappled with. There is a decided tendency toward labor organization and the instigators of economic unrest are evidently at work south of the border.

The feeling of confidence in the Obregon administration is most apparent, perhaps, in the influx of travelers from American ports of entry. The number of non-Mexicans passing south daily through Juarez, Nogales and Laredo is double that of a few weeks ago. Travel conditions are improving, though it will require an expenditure of many millions of dollars to restore the condition of the railroad lines of Mexico to that existent prior to 1910.

SEES DESERT SCHOOLS.

REDLANDS, Jan. 12.—Mrs. Grace Stanley, of this city, County Superintendent of Schools, and Miss Caroline Waters, the county librarian, have returned from a 300-mile trip over the desert visiting the schools of the mining towns.

They found twenty children in the schools at Trona, a like number at Atolla, there are ten in the school at Kramer and seventeen in the school at Borosolav. They found conditions in the schools excellent and the teachers doing good work.

OUTSIDE IN NO WAY TO EXIST.

Only Inside-Outers Realize Simple "I Am" Feat.

Metaphysicians Declare Man Never Was if He Isn't.

To Fight Thoughts is Silly; They Win Every Time.

As Shakespeare said, "to be or not to be, that is the question," so said the metaphysician at the second afternoon session of the first annual midwinter metaphysicians' festival at Choral Hall, yesterday.

A man is, or he isn't. If he isn't, he isn't. It is a simple feat, but though he wants and isn't, he can be if he will be, according to the metaphysician, Dr. W. Frederic Keeler, who was one of the principal speakers to address more than 500 metaphysicians assembled in Choral Hall, epistemologically defined the mundane situation of the "eternal ego."

First of all, he said, man does not live lives. He lives but one, and that from the "inside out," not from the "outside in." In other words if he wants to be, and is, he will accomplish the simple feat by simply announcing to himself and to others from within himself "I am."

It's so simple.

All metaphysicians agreed in their addresses on a wide variety of subjects involving the epistemological, ontological, cosmological, psychological and other treatises of metaphysics that life is but a simple thing. It is but to be. But to be, Dr. Keeler said, "a man must know, must be master of his soul."

HOW IT CAN BE DONE.

To know is just as simple as to be, for to know, a man has but to "take the truth and eliminate all that isn't the truth, which will leave but the truth alone." Then a man will have the truth and he will know, and, so knowing, will be simple.

If a man steps out with the decision to know and to be and he doubts and so begins a fight with his conscious thought, he'll never get anywhere, said Dr. Keeler. There's no use fighting a conscious thought, he said, for the thought will be the winner every time, and then a man will be just where he was before.

There are good and bad thoughts, said Dr. Keeler, but no real bad thoughts are ever thought by the thinker. They come from outer life. The thinker thinks good thoughts.

WILL WORK FOR CITY'S BEAUTY.

Art Commission Decides on Campaign Directed to Year's Builders.

Mapping out a campaign for the year designed to encourage the combination of beauty and utility in new buildings and improvements which will be undertaken, the Municipal Art Commission yesterday held its first meeting in 1934 and elected John W. Mitchell president, re-elected Mrs. Sumner P. Hunt as vice-president, and chose A. F. Rosenheim, retiring president, as secretary.

Mrs. Cecil B. De Mille, wife of the cinema producer, took her place on the commission yesterday for the first time. She succeeds to the seat held by Julia Bracken Wendt.

and by so doing wards off the bad thoughts. Thus the thoughts of the thinker who is a considerable he is, may be classified as "desirable and undesirable," not good and bad. The conclusion is, let a man think desirable thoughts and all will be well; for said the doctor, "if man will do this then he will be a moment, but he will be for time, eternally and infinity."

Elizabeth Cary Kratzer of Chicago was the guest of honor. Ernest Homes acted as chairman and spoke metaphysically on love and other things. Other speakers were Julia M. Powell on "Fundamentals," Florence Johnson on "The Faith That Wins," and Elizabeth Cary Kratzer.

PROPHESIES GIVEN.

At the evening session Richard Ingalese was chairman and Francis Grierson, of Paris and London, the guest of honor. The speakers were Laurel L. Harford on "The One Thing, Needful," Roy E. Langworthy, deputy State parole officer, on "Servants of God," Mrs. Carlos Hardy on "To Him That Overcometh," Earl McIntyre on "Metaphysics as Taught Through Motion Pictures," and Francis Grierson on "Prophecies for 1934."

This afternoon Aileen U. Fareed, M.D., will be the chairman and Lella Simon Castberg the guest of honor. The speakers will be Charlotte Pearl Farham, Ernest Shurtlett Holmes, Jessie W. Boerstler and Lella Simon Castberg, and the subjects, "Love, the Revealer," "Man's Extremity," "God's Opportunity," "At-one-ment," "Reel Education" and "The Power of the Word."

The evening session will conclude the three-day festival. Henry Hotchner and Lella Simon Castberg will again be the guests of honor. The speakers will be Edward B. Warman, A.M., L.L.D., Carl Bronson, Virginia Osgood, Lella Simon Castberg, Marie Russac-Hotchner, Annie Rix Mills and Dr. Frederick Finch Strong. The subjects will be "Demonstration vs. Theory," "The New Wireless," "1934 or the Number 13," "The Mystic Law of Transmutation," "The Virtue of Intensity," "Prayer and Prayer," and "The Signs of the Times."

At both sessions musical selections will be given by accomplished musicians, interspersing the addresses.

NO LIQUOR LAW RULING.

Constitutionality of County and City Rights Not Settled.

Reports that either he or U. S. District Judge Tripp had ever passed on the right of counties or municipalities to pass ordinances modeled after the Volstead Act were vigorously denied by U. S. District Judge Bledsoe yesterday.

On December 2 Judge Bledsoe wrote a letter to Mayor Snyder calling his attention to the fact that the city of Bakersfield had a liquor ordinance under which $75,000 in fines had been collected. It was suggested to the Mayor in this letter that Los Angeles might increase its revenues and at the same time relieve the Federal courts of a considerable number of petty liquor cases which were causing congestion of the court calendars. There was no opinion expressed, however, according to the statement of Judge Bledsoe, as to the constitutionality of the Bakersfield ordinance.

That question was submitted to Judge Bledsoe several weeks ago in habeas corpus proceedings in which the legality of the Bakersfield liquor ordinance was attacked. It would be highly improper for him to express an opinion on the issue at stake while having this matter before him, he said.

TO BE COMPTROLLER?

Oakland Man Thought to be Slated for Shipyard Peace.

Although no official announcement to that effect has been made, it is understood that L. V. Hedrick, comptroller at the Moore Shipbuilding Plant at Oakland, is to succeed G. G. Phillips in that capacity at the Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company's yard here, following the resignation of the latter. Tuesday, after disagreements with company officials, Mr. Hedrick arrived at the harbor from San Francisco yesterday morning.

E. M. Leaf has been made first vice-president, as well as secretary at the plant. S. L. Naphthaline remains as vice-president.
